

The 4th Asian Conference on Computer Aided Surgery

April 23-25, 2008, Jiuhua Spa & Resort, Beijing, China

The Asian Conference on Computer Aided Surgery (ACCAS) series provides a forum for academic researchers, clinical scientists, surgeons and industrial partners, to exchange new ideas, techniques and the latest development in the field. ACCAS is also interested to promote collaborations for people from different disciplines and different countries in Asia and in the world.

The 1st Asian Conference on Computer Aided Surgery was held in Japan in 2005. The 2nd Conference was held in conjunction with the 2006 World Congress of Medical Physics and Bio-engineering in Korea in 2006. The 3rd Conference was held in Singapore on Dec 1-2, 2007. The 4th Asian Conference on Computer Aided Surgery, will be held in conjunction with the 7th Asian-Pacific Conference on Medical and Biological Engineering (APCMBE 2008), at Jiuhua Spa & Resort in Beijing from April 22 to 25, 2008.

The aim of the conference is to bring together the researchers working in the areas of computer aided surgery to discuss the state of the art of the relevant topics shown as follows:

- Medical activity visualization
- Simulation and modeling
- Virtual reality for CAS
- Image guided diagnosis and therapies
- CAS for minimally invasive intervention
- Medical robotics and instrumentation
- Surgical navigation
- Clinical application of CAS
- Telemedicine/teleradiology/telesurgery
- CAS education

The conference will have keynote lectures, invited talks, oral and poster presentations in the program.

Conference Chairs: Jing FANG (Peking University, China), Makoto Hashizume (Kyushu University)

Sponsored by

Chinese Society of Biomedical Engineering

Hosted by

Biomed-X Research Center of Advanced Academy of Interdisciplinary Studies
Department of Biomedical Engineering, Peking University
